Atrion Introduces “Always On Academy”

“Academy” will offer an educational suite of forums and peer discussions focused on Always On approaches and best practices

Warwick, R.I. – Feb. 22nd, 2010 – Atrion Networking Corporation, a leading provider of Information Technology and managed services, today introduces its “Always On Academy.” The Academy will offer an educational suite of IT expert-led forums as well as peer-to-peer discussions focused on providing Always On insight, best practices and resources over the next 12-15 months. Participants in the Academy will be able to apply these approaches to begin achieving Always On performance within their own organization.

Always On Academy highlights include:

- 6 Webinars drilling into the Always On Approach as well as the 5 Tenets of Always On and how to achieve them
- 5 Always On strategic Round Table discussion and planning sessions hosted throughout New England
- Monthly Newsletter focusing on one element of Always On
- Exclusive access to Atrion Media Center (launch date: Feb. 24th, 2010) to host and share real-world Always On experiences

“Atrion has worked diligently over the past months to create the complete Always On package for our clients,” said Melissa DelPrete, Director of Marketing for Atrion. “The Always On Academy will provide our clients with a comprehensive understanding of the Always On philosophy and approach, the crucial role it plays in business and how they can attain it in their own environments through mastering the Always On Tenets. Today’s IT professionals are on the hook for ensuring secure, efficient and round the clock access to key network systems and applications – Atrion and Always On can help them achieve it.”

The Always On Academy is a free service. Its creation stems from client demand following the success of Atrion’s Jan. 27th Always On Imperative Symposium event at Gillette Stadium. Nearly 100 business and IT leaders across New England gathered for the event, which showcased Always On experiences and approaches from peers, vendors and IT integrators.

Atrion is currently planning its January 2011 Always On Symposium II. Additionally, Atrion will continue its Always On Coffee & Chat campaign for clients who are interested in talking one on one about Always On and how it can impact their business.
